

IMON BOY

(ES, 1991)

The artist known as Imon Boy lives and works in Málaga, Spain— the city where he is from, although few know it. Discreet and solitary, the artist's identity is a mystery that is not coincidental. As he tells on his Instagram account, "Behind Imon Boy, there is a person like you." His designs dismantle the stereotypical testosterone-filled image of the graffiti artist, instead conveying a tender and ironic vision of what it means to paint illegally on the street.

Imon Boy builds an unexpected discourse riddled with "fails" with the police, and romantic messages for his secret love. Like any child of the '90s, among his favorite references are video games, movies, the internet, music, and the trips he makes. His works have been exhibited at galleries in Chicago, London, Los Angeles, Madrid, and Zürich, among other cities.
